HERRING ARE LATE.

Fish Have Not Showed Up At Newfoundland.

Everything in Readiness to Carry On the Fishing.

A number of American vessels have arrived at Boone Bay and Bay of Islands, N. F., in quest of herring, and everything is in readiness to pursue that branch of the fisheries, but as yet few herring have put in an appearance.

Last year herring were abundant at Lark Harbor and other places on the 11th of October, but it is now two weeks later this year and no good sign yet of any of the much-sought herring. The fishermen say that dog fish and squid are numerous in the arms of the bay, and while these depredators remain the herring will not come.

Schs. Independence of this port and Annie M. Parker of Boston, and sch. Peerless of Lunenburg, N. S., are now anchored in Birch Cove awaiting the arrival of the herring.

Reports indicate that a large number of Canadian vessels will take salt and frozen herring in the Arms this season. At Lunenburg a number of vessels that have returned from the Bank codfishery are now fitting out for Bay of Islands, and some have already arrived there.

NEWFOUNDLAND TREATY.

Difference of Opinion As to Its Progress.

Conflicting Reports Come from Washington.

The following despatch comes from Washington under date of yesterday:

The statement that the negotiations of a reciprocity treaty with Newfoundland has been abandoned on account of the opposition of Senator Lodge is declared here by friends of the latter to be without foundation. The treaty has been blocked temporarily. Senator Lodge is in favor of a reciprocity treaty if the interests of Gloucester are in his opinion, protested. It is understood that the negotiations between the two countries have not been absolutely broken off and it is hoped by the state department that a favorable result may be reached.

The Newfoundland representatives, however, hold out no such hope, as yet. Premier Bond is of the opinion that the arrangement drawn up by Secretary Blaine and now suggested in turn by him would not harm the Gloucester interests but would be mutually advantageous to both countries.

It is very doubtful tonight if any reciprocity treaty can be arranged on any other basis. The Newfoundland representatives have not been backward in voicing this opinion and they themselves seem honestly to believe that in hoping to negotiate a treaty on any other basis, Secretary Hay merely deceives himself.

VETERAN FISHERMEN.

No Herring.

Up to the later part of last week there had been no sign of herring on the coast between Current Island and Bay St. George.

Mackerel Notes.

Sch. S. F. Maker, with 50 barrels mackerel, sch. Seythia, 100 barrels, and sch. Victor 25 barrels, were reported at Sydney, C. B., recently.

Capt. Alex. McEachern of the sch. Maggie and May, who arrived home from the Grand Banks on Sunday, reports that while harboring at Halifax it was reported that not a school of mackerel had been seen off there this fall. At Sydney he says the boats are doing well hooking near shore.

Fishing Fleet Movements.

Steamer Quartette landed 30 barrels of herring at Boston yesterday. The fish were torched in Saugus river and sold at $4 a barrel.
